INTRODUCTION

This mini project is a responsive and user-friendly login page designed using HTML and CSS. The project replicates a university portal login interface, featuring fields for username and password, a sign-in button, a forgot password option, and third-party account login support. The main objective of this project is to demonstrate the use of HTML for webpage structure and CSS for styling, layout design, and user interface enhancement. It helps in understanding the fundamentals of web development and creating visually appealing web pages.

OUTPUT CODE

CONCLUSION

This mini project successfully demonstrates the creation of a simple and attractive Alliance University Login Page using HTML and CSS. Through this project, the concepts of webpage structure, styling, alignment, and responsive design were implemented effectively. It enhanced understanding of front-end web development and provided practical experience in designing a professional login interface. The project serves as a foundation for developing more advanced and interactive web applications in the future.
